Teachers Must be Better Paid to Insure Efficient and Inter-ested Service.

JOSEPH M. EGGLESTON DEAD.

Falls Victim of Pneumonia at Ely, Nevada—G. W. Alvord Sues Smith and Pingree for Damages.

Ogden, March 15.—Supt. Allison of the Ogden City public schools at the meeting of the board of education last evening, brought up the matter of fixing a minimum and maximum salary for all grade teachers. He explained that at the present time the highest salary paid per month to grade teachers is $65, which makes it quite difficult to get the right kind of teachers who are proficient in their work. He gave it as his opinion that if the board would set a definite maximum salary sufficiently high to make it an object for the teachers to qualify themselves better and to continue year after year in the service, much better results would be obtained, and the teachers would be better satisfied with their work. The members of the board discussed the proposition at length, but did not take any definite steps looking toward the establishment of a better salary schedule.

The health committee reported 17 cases of sickness among the children, five diphtheria, two smallpox, two spinal meningitis, one measles and seven chicken pox cases.

The superintendent's report showed an enrollment of 4,742, with an average daily attendance of 4,331.6. The percent of punctuality was unusually good, being 98.4 per cent.

The treasurer reported cash on hand $27,602.83.

JOSEPH M. EGGLESTON IS DEAD.

Claimed by Pneumonia While in Ely, Nevada.

Ogden, March 15.—The sad intelligence was received in Ogden yesterday afternoon through a telegram to Harry Eggleston announcing the death at Ely, Nevada, Thursday night of his brother Joseph M. Eggleston, one of the most popular and highly esteemed young men of Ogden. The early part of the week his mother Mrs. Evelyn Eggleston received a message informing her that Joseph was seriously sick with pneumonia. She and her son Reuben and Miss Nellie Monahan, to whom Mr. Eggleston was engaged to be married, hastened to his bedside, and rendered every possible aid that loving hands could tender, but from the first he seemed to be stricken with death, and neither medical skill nor nursing seemed to relieve him. The announcement of his untimely demise will bring the deepest sorrow to hundreds in Ogden where he had lived all his life up to the first of the year, when he went to Ely, Nevada, to manage the grocery and hardware departments of the Ely Mercantile companies. For years he has been employed as clerk in Tribe & Jones grocery store and through his geniality and ready ways made hundreds of friends. He was the twin brother to George Eggleston who died five years ago, and was born in Ogden Nov. 3, 1871, was a graduate of Smith's business college. He was an active member of the Woodmen of the World also a member of the degree team.

SUIT ON A SUIT.

Gideon W. Alvord, through his attorney, Joseph Clark, has filed in the district court a complaint against A. R. C. Smith and James Pingree, on the bond for damages which Alvord alleges he sustained.

The complaint alleges that on the 21st day of April, 1905, Smith instituted a suit against Alvord and upon Smith filing his bond, with James Pingree as surety, he obtained an injunction restraining Alvord from digging a certain ditch, to drain a large area of his land of water that was thereon. That by reason of the issuing of said injunction Alvord was compelled to stop digging said ditch, and his land remained impounded with water and wholly unfit for cultivation, and that on October, 1905, the case was heard in the district court and judgment was entered in favor of Alvord, dissolving said injunction, that subsequently, Smith appealed the case from the district court to the supreme court of Utah, and said injunction was stayed and remained in force and effect during the pendency of the appeal, and on Sept. 12, 1905, the supreme court affirmed the decision on Dec. 11, 1905, affirming the district court and forever dissolving the injunction.

PICKPOCKETS MAKE RICH HAUL.

Three Robberies at Ogden Union Depot—Thieves Still at Large.

Ogden, March 15.—At the Ogden Union depot yesterday afternoon, three men, a Rio Grande Western to a Southern Pacific train, Mr. E. C. Rickards of Cripple Creek, Colo., was robbed of $75 in cash and a draft for $127 on the Cripple Creek State bank. When Mr. Rickards alighted from the train three men who were also passengers on the train, beat him and took his money. He was somewhat angry at them for the rough way in which they jostled him about. He did not even guess at their purpose in doing this, but when he was cornered by the three men, he was forced to surrender his money. The three men, who were seen by the police, but as yet the pickpockets have not been apprehended. The light-fingered gentry who committed the deed are supposed to be the same that a little later secured a wallet containing $40 and two tickets to Los Angeles, from J. W. Dalrymple of Montrose, Colo. Mr. Dalrymple was in a westbound tourist car when the three men entered the car and stole his wallet. He reported the loss to the police. Shortly after this wallet was recovered, supposed to be members of the same gang, boarded a crowded street car at the Union depot, and one of them succeeded in getting $50 from a man's pocket. The fellow that was being robbed detected the thief at work and made an effort to detain him. The pickpocket dropped the money on the floor of the car and made his escape before the other passengers realized what had happened. So far the police have been unable to get a definite clue to the gang.

LOGAN.

MR. M'ALLISTER'S ANSWER.

He Makes Denial of Allegations Contained in Recent Suit Filed.

Special Correspondence.

Logan, March 15.—The attorneys of Mr. John A. McAllister, Messrs. Moyle and Van Cott, have prepared an answer on behalf of their client, against whom suit was recently filed by Messrs. Cranney, Kimball, Cardon and others. The answer admits the purchase of the mining property referred to, and says that the various plaintiffs and Mr. McAllister made their purchases separately and independently of each other, all paying Ernest H. Wilson their several amounts.

He claims that the plaintiff, L. C. Fatter, purchased from A. E. Cranney, and that he subsequently bought 500 shares of stock at 40c.

That plaintiffs Murdoch and West bought from Wilson part of the 12,000 shares bonus stock, and thereafter Murdoch and West sold to McAllister and others at a profit, with full knowledge of all the facts.

That Cranney transacted all his business through Wilson, and the defendant had nothing whatever to do with the same, excepting the delivery of the stock to the plaintiff, Kimball, Cardon, Palmer, Ballard and Davis.

"Alleges that on or about the 17th day of November, 1905, said Wilson had the right to sell said stock or interests in said property having been questioned and denied by the owners of the same, this defendant assisted in securing a settlement of said Wilson's differences with said owners, under and by which the defendant and the plaintiffs received the interest in said property, for which they had paid said Wilson as aforesaid, and also secured for said Wilson 12,000 shares of the capital stock of the corporation (herein called bonus stock), which was subsequently organized for the purpose of operating said property. In lieu of said Wilson's alleged interest in said property and in settlement of his claim connected therewith against the said owners of said property, that the plaintiffs under said settlement, received stock in said company upon the basis aforesaid, to-wit: a hundred shares of the stock of said company for $1000."

"That the owners of said property and said Wilson in making said settlement of their differences and by which the rights and claims of said Wilson and the parties hereto were adjusted, prepared a contract or written statement of said agreement in which the name of this defendant was inserted in lieu of that of said Wilson as a contracting party. That this defendant objected to the same, whereupon it was urged by said parties that it would make no difference and upon which statement this defendant was induced to sign said agreement as a contracting party, when in truth and fact his name was used solely as an accommodation for said parties. That under said agreement it was provided that this defendant should be permitted to purchase 12,000 shares of the stock of said company at 40 cents per share, and that he should have as a bonus, the sum of 12,000 shares of said company which should be issued to him or to whom he might designate, upon the fact that as provided in said agreement, that the money as aforesaid paid to said Wilson, was transferred by him to said corporation in payment for said 12,000 shares and that the said 12,000 shares to be issued to the defendant as a bonus was for the sole purpose of satisfying and settling the said claims of said Wilson, and that it was understood by the said owners of said property and the defendant and said

GUARANTEED UNDER THE Food and Drugs Act, June 30, 1906. No. 324.

Wilson that said 12,000 shares was to be held by the defendant for said Wilson and in consideration of which, and the services rendered as aforesaid, said Wilson released and relinquished any claim that he had against the owners of said property and agreed that he would do what he could to promote the interests of said corporation in the place of lighting it, as he had previously insisted upon doing. If a satisfactory settlement of said claims were not made by said owners.

That the said 12,000 shares secured to the plaintiffs are all of their interest in said property, and all for which he had contracted or paid, or were entitled to receive, and that the plaintiffs were in no way interested in said property, and that the said 12,000 shares transferred to the defendant as a bonus as aforesaid.

That the defendant admitted that he received 5,000 shares of said 12,000 shares and that the said Wilson gave the same to the defendant solely in consideration for his services in adjusting and securing a settlement of his claims against said owners of said property on account of his alleged interests therein.

Mr. McAllister also alleges that after the agreement was executed and before the plaintiffs received their stock he read the agreement to Frank W. Fletcher and to plaintiffs Cranney, Murdoch and one of the Cardons, explaining to them that Wilson was to receive 12,000 shares of bonus stock. That before said stock was delivered, Murdoch, Fatter and others met at the office of Joseph Lippman in Salt Lake, where said contract was again read to them and a full explanation made of the transaction. Mr. McAllister alleges that the plaintiffs accepted stock on this basis and that they received it with a full knowledge of all the facts, excepting the fact that the defendant would receive from said Wilson in consideration of the services rendered as aforesaid. He denies that the stock has a market value, but admits that it has been sold at 40c per share, and that some of it has been sold at 50c and 60c per share.

RICHFIELD.

MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENTS.

Spinal Meningitis Claims Little Child and Threatens Big Bear.

Special Correspondence.

Richfield, Sevier Co., March 15.—At the regular session of the city council held last night it was decided to proceed at once to further improve the city park by planting additional trees and preparing walks and otherwise beautifying the grounds. Steps were also taken to have a portion of the Cottonwood water applied upon the cemetery and to plant several rows of trees along the driveways, and have the same looked after by some competent person.

The sum of $146 was appropriated to pay one-half of the cost of the sand recently hauled upon the sidewalks, those having it hauled paying the other half. This indicates that within the last two weeks $900 worth of labor has been expended upon the sidewalks of this city.

VICTIM OF SPINAL MENINGITIS.

Lean Foutz, the infant daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Foutz, passed away last night at 10 o'clock. The cause of her death was spinal meningitis. Her illness was first noticed last Monday morning, and before evening she had dwindled into a state of unconsciousness, from which she never rallied. The little girl was four and one-half years of age and a bright and promising child.

Bishop Bean of the Second ward was suddenly taken ill day before yesterday and was scarcely able to get home from his farm where he had gone to work. He had all the usual symptoms of spinal meningitis, and it was feared that he was attacked with the dread disease. This morning, however, he is much improved and it is expected that in a few days he will have perfectly recovered.

New Era Paint

Saves Money

Twenty-three months ago two brothers, who were also neighbors and had homes alike, painted their houses. One was convinced that "New Era" was the proper paint to use. The other was prejudiced and insisted upon using "hand mixed lead and oil. The same painter did both jobs. Last week the lead and oil brother gave us an order for "New Era" Paint. His house needed painting again. The "New Era" house is in first-class condition today.

On every gallon can of "New Era" Paint is a tag containing the makers' guarantee of purity; also an "Acme Quality" label. This Acme quality label is a mark of merit that distinguishes the product of scientific methods systematically applied to paint reduction—a mark that stands for highest quality—better raw materials—careful handling—a product that is right—without increased cost.

Whatever you may buy that goes on with a brush, the "Acme Quality" mark is your guarantee of superior and reliable quality and unquestionable value.

As representative "Acme Quality" products we mention Varnol Lac (for floors and furniture), Granite Wax, Neal's Enamel Carriage Paint, Colonial Floor Wax Paint, Neal's s. Acme Quality Varnish, Etc.

BANKS' MILLINERY STORE at 116 South Main street teems with the spirit of genial. Aside from their wonderful Millinery Creations one of their artists has in the above illustration demonstrated the fact that a "wink" can be photographed. Next to making sound visible this is considered the greatest achievement in modern photography. The photographer making the discovery is a man of mature years, while the subject photographed is a demure, mild-mannered maiden, not yet out of her teens. The feat is of such great scientific importance, this explanation seems necessary to prevent it from being taken as a jest.
